The festival of Easter will be observed on Sunday by all of the churches in town. A sunrise service at seven o'clock will greet the day. This will be held at the top of Eastern avenue near the standpipe. At the morning services there will be special musical programs and sermons reflecting the joyous spirit of the day. I am He that liveth, and was dead, and behold I am alive forevermore! — Rev. 1:18.

And so there is no Death!
The valley I had feared —
Is but an open field
Where waters glisten still and clear.

For there is Life beyond
Glimpses of winding creeks
Headlands and boundless main:
Far off the lights of Home!

Life is but inland creek
With tides fast-running:
Then stillness of ebb-tide,
With silent calling of the Deep.

But this is not the End,
Ah no — sunset gates — sweet sleep —
Then open doors — new awakening.
Night gone, mists cleared, and DAWN!

Shall Arlington Have A Peace Association?

At a meeting to be held next Thursday afternoon at half past two in Junior Library Hall the question of whether Arlington is to have a Peace Association will be answered. All who are interested are asked to show their interest by attending.

Such associations have already been formed in many of the surrounding towns and are playing an active part in furthering peace education.

Lewis C. Strong of Boston is to be the speaker and Mrs. Roscoe R. Perry, temporary chairman of the Women Peacemakers, is to preside.

ARNOLD CHRISTIANSON JUDGED BEST LEADER

To Arnold Christianson, of the Hardy school, goes the honor of being the best physical training leader. In a contest in which the two best leaders from each grammar school in town took part, making sixteen contestants in all, Arnold stepped to the front, and led the group through a set of five exercises well enough to win a silver loving cup for his personal keeping.

This relief drill contest was held Wednesday afternoon in Junior High Center under the direction of Miss McCarty, head of the girls' physical education department in the town schools. Miss O'Neill and Miss Gallagher, physical instructors of the grade schools, assisted Miss McCarty in judging the contest.

The complete list of contestants was as follows: Paul Lamothe and Ralph Olson of Cutter, Muriel Colle and William Hanson of Brackett, Robert Benshimol and Jane Carroll of Parmenter, Betty McMahon and Ruth Bixby of Crosby, Robert Evans and Dorothy Peppard of Locke, Ralph Mello and Helen Harding of Russell, Walter Kronfeldt and Ella McKenzie of Peirce, and George Clemens and Arnold Christianson of the Hardy School.

These pupils had already won the right to represent their respective schools, in previous contests held at the schools. It is expected that this contest will be an annual feature, as the interest aroused this year was very encouraging.

TROOP NINETEEN SCOUTS PLAN PARENTS' NIGHT

Boy Scouts of Troop Nineteen are planning to hold a parents' night and a re-chartering service next Friday evening in the new vestry of the Heights M. E. church. The boys are rehearsing a short play and expect besides to give exhibitions of signalling, knot tying, first aid, and other scout activities.

The troop has a new committee-man, Earl Jeffreys of Bow street.

Joint Board Makes Four Re-Appointments

At the meeting Tuesday evening at which William O. Hauser presided, the Joint Board made four re-appointments. They were as follows: clerk, John A. Easton; town counsel, Paul M. White, engineer, James M. Keane, and superintendent of wires, William E. Mason.

It was voted to change the name of Chestnut street at Arlington Heights to Ely road, to avoid confusion with Chestnut street at the Centre.

GUTZMAN WINS 165 POUND INTERCOLLEGIATE TITLE

Al Gutzman, former A. H. S. star athlete, won the 165 pound intercollegiate boxing title last Saturday at Penn. Al is a sophomore at Syracuse, and it was his great victory that gave Syracuse the team championship.

In high school, he was better than average as an end on the red and gray football team, and he won the Mystic Valley 220 title as captain of Doc McCarty's tracksters. Then this young Arlington blonde travelled to Worcester Academy, where he featured in the same two sports. It was at the "Worce" that he made good as a fighter, for he was crowned heavyweight champ of the school without much trouble. As this was his first try with the gloves, his success showed he had plenty of uncovered natural ability.

His freshman year at Syracuse found him making good in all three of his pet sports. This year, he was unfortunate enough to have to let the captain play regular end, while he did some heavy watching on, but at that, he played more than the captain's understudy ordinarily would.

This winter he found little trouble in securing a permanent berth on the boxing team, and last Saturday he proved that he could make any team in the country. Al is six feet tall.

FRIENDS CHEER CHARLES McMANUS DURING ILLNESS

Charles F. McManus has been absent from his furniture store for some little time because of illness. But time has not hung heavily upon his hands. His friends, William Whowell and David Wilcox in particular, have kept things moving for him. Early in the week they presented him with a huge bouquet of flowers and a vase.

The vase itself was a very rare bit of pottery, and as an antique, Mr. McManus considered it very valuable. Later his bed was deluged with baskets of fruits which included everything which appears in northern markets. The Men's Class at the First Baptist church did not fail to remember. They sent their indisposed member a handsome rose bush.

Lt. Polando Speaks To Universalist Men

Lieut. John Polando, co-holder with Russell Boardman of the distance record for a non-stop flight, gripped the attention of the Universalist Men's Club last Friday night as he related the details of the five thousand-mile dash from New York to Istanbul, Turkey.

Leaving Floyd Bennett Field early on the morning of July 28 in their Bellanca plane heavily laden with gas and oil they soared away in the direction of Cape Race. He recalled passing over Arlington. They were not a great deal higher than Turkey Hill because the weight of the load kept the plane to an average altitude of 350 feet as far as Newfoundland.

When nightfall came they were reaching out over the Atlantic, flying high above a blanket of fog. With motors humming steadily they felt secure and enjoyed the beautiful reflection of moonlight on the black terror below it. Nevertheless it was a comfortable feeling when they sighted the coast of Ireland at dawn.

Lieut. Polando paid tribute to the navigational ability of Boardman. Coming down through a hole in the fog over England they checked their position and found they were but two miles off the calculated course.

Veering southward across the English Channel they soon arrived over the Le Bourget field at Paris. Here they dropped a bundle of New York Times. Not having a radio aboard they figured that these papers when found would result in a news flash to the world that they were safely across the ocean. As luck would have it, however, the papers fell in a place where they were not discovered until the flyers were in Turkey.

The most dangerous part of the flight came as they saw the peaks of the Transylvanian Alps. Polando felt that his partner was a man without nerves as he guided the plane into valleys and through passes where it was difficult to distinguish a fog bank from the side of a mountain.

Coming over the rugged Balkan region they were favored by a forty mile an hour tail-wind. This low-

The American Legion Auxiliary to Post No. 39, held its regular meeting at Post Headquarters, 681 Massachusetts avenue on Monday evening. After a short business meeting, Mrs. E. Gertrude Carter, president, turned the program over to Mrs. Laura Barry, who took charge of the entertainment. A telephone party was held during which entertainment was furnished by Miss Irene Charron's Dancing Studio. Twelve pupils participated and gave toe and tap dancing numbers and dancing and singing sketches. The children performed well and are to be commended for the excellent way in which they carried their program through to the finish. Miss Gertrude Turnbull, soprano soloist, very generously contributed to the evening's program by giving several vocal selections.

Readings were given by Miss Doris Clinkard, one selection, "At the Box Office," was especially enjoyed by the audience. After this splendid evening of entertainment, a collation was served.

PROFESSOR ELVIN POTTER ADDRESSES ROTARY CLUB

The Rotary Club, at the meeting on Wednesday, voted to accept the invitation of the Kiwanis Club to meet with them on Thursday, April 7, to hear Lieutenant Governor Youngman at Wyman's English Tavern.

President M. Ernest Moore appointed as the committee for Ladies' Night to take place in May, L. E. A. Smith, John N. Mark, Walter K. Hutchinson, Archibald F. Bullock, Clarence Peterson and Paul Fraser.

Professor Elvin Potter presented suggestions for the solution of the unrest problem of the day. He denounced inter-marriage of races. He would promote the improvement of foreign countries so that all foreigners now living in America will voluntarily return to their own countries. All foreigners within our borders, whose beliefs are not in accord with our ideas and constitution, should be deported. The speaker also believes that the management and control of our affairs should rest entirely with Nordics.

KIWANIS CLUB PREPARING VOCATIONAL GUIDANCE PLANS

The Arlington Kiwanis Club had the honor of greeting their Lieutenant Governor, Jim Gallagher of Newton, at the regular meeting yesterday noon at Wyman's English Tavern. The Club was under official scrutiny but that fact did not worry the members greatly, for as President Albert W. Wunderly indicated in his exhaustive report, the local organization has made a very favorable record during the past year.

Vice-President Franklin P. Hawkes also reported in his capacity of chairman of the Vocational Guidance Committee. He said that he was receiving the cooperation of Superintendent Dempsey of the School Department and was preparing a program which would provide for excursions to various manufacturing plants with groups of boys. Other plans are also in the making.

IMMACULATE CONCEPTION PLAYERS GIVE PERFORMANCE

A performance of "My Irish Rose," for the benefit of the building fund of the Immaculate Conception Church in Somerville, was given in Robbins Memorial Town Hall last Thursday evening by the Immaculate Conception Players. The large crowd which attended enjoyed not only the play, which was under the supervision of Rev. Jeremiah F. Moriarty, and coached by Mary L. Lydecker, but the fine concert of Irish music as well.

Between the acts, Irish songs and ballads were rendered by the master choristers, forty voices trained by Professor James L. LeFleur with Dr. George Whoriskey, conductor. Solos were sung by Mary Killeen, Mrs. Blanche Kelley, John Terp and Robert Leonard with Helen M. Whoriskey at the piano.

The cast of the play included the Misses Betty Wild, Mary Keefe, Mary Keaney, Alice Mahoney, Eileen Kiley, Peggy Cronin, and James Coffey, Daniel Mahoney, Timothy D. Sullivan, Francis Drumm, William F. Suk and Joseph Rosenberger.

Incidental music was sung by Peggy Cronin, Daniel Mahoney, James Coffey, Grace Rosenberger, Dora Caspar and Helen Caspar. Those who took part are all members of the Immaculate Conception Parish, which serves the lower end of Arlington as well as West Somerville and a section of North Cambridge.

TRIBACHI CAMPIRE GIRLS HAVE POVERTY PARTY

A poverty party was held recently at the home of Miss Frances Travers by the Tribachi Campfire Girls. Fourteen girls wearing costumes of varied description were present. Prizes were given to the most original, funniest, and shabbiest. The winners were, respectively, the Misses May Travers, Ruth Wilfred and Edna Shepard. A "bread line" was formed where the guests were served hot dogs and cocoa. Many games were played and everybody had an hilarious evening.

HEIGHTS CHURCHES UNITE FOR HOLY WEEK SERVICES

The three Protestant churches at the Heights united for Holy Week services. Tuesday evening the service was held at the Methodist church, with Rev. Arthur W. Dyer, minister of the Park Avenue Congregational church preaching. On Wednesday evening, Rev. R. T. Broeg, minister of the First Methodist, preached at the Baptist church. Last night Mr. Dyer and Mr. Broeg, with Rev. Irving G. Roddy of the Baptist church, participated in the communion service at the Congregational church.

HAS EASTER PARTY FOR HIS FIFTH BIRTHDAY

Master Sherwood Quinlan celebrated his fifth birthday at his home, 47 Newport street, on Thursday with a party for eleven of his young friends. His mother, Mrs. Robert Quinlan, had the house decorated in orchid and yellow and presented each child with a bunny as a favor. The afternoon was spent in playing games. The most important part of the refreshments was the beautiful birthday cake adorned with five candles.

Those present at the party were Naomi Newell, Edith Saunders, Mary Morrill, Phyllis Wyman, Barbara Johnson, Priscilla Ford, Joseph and Frederick Newell, George Saunders, Stephen Morrill, and Allen Holden.

Troop I — Eleanor Rowell is one of the most promising leaders. She has conducted troop meetings since Captain Dailin's retirement on account of illness in a splendid manner and there is great improvement in the general attitude of the girls.

Troop II is progressing and the classes present a very busy appearance.

The courtesy requirement was stressed this week.

Mrs. Robert Boyd is teaching housekeeping and Mrs. MacDonald, second class First Aid.

Five new girls have joined the troop. They are Phyllis MacNeil, Ruth Collins, Priscilla Dick, Eileen McCarthy and Irene Allison.

Troop III — Lieutenant Johnson will soon be commissioned as captain. Ruberta Bailey has taken out lieutenant's papers in this troop. The needlework guild class is most active and enthusiastic.

Troop IV — This troop is coming up to standard.

Troop V recently held a parents' day. Needlework guild groups begin this week.

Troop VI — The girls are working on a pageant and on folk dancing.

Troop VII is receiving splendid help from Captain Curtis and Virginia Brooks has returned to the troop.

Edith Mariner, Betty Dockham, Evelyn Myer, Marion Martin and Beryl Sullivan hiked to Reed's Milk Farm last Saturday.

Troop VIII — These girls are tackling a most intricate sword dance for the May rally. Sarah Frances Patterson is doing excellent work in the troop.

Troop IX — Growing rapidly. It is the only troop Mrs. Towne has not yet visited to give folk dancing instruction.

Troop X — The aim of this troop is to have every girl a second class Scout at the final court of awards. Needlework guild groups started with a cutting out party at the captain's home Tuesday. These girls are planning to go to Dennison's next Saturday for a three-hour course in making the paper costumes they are to wear at the May rally.

The troop was given a surprise party on Friday, March 18, by patrol 5. The regular meeting was held with a vote to give $1.00 toward the fund for the Washington Bicentennial tree to be planted here in Arlington. After the nature classes with Mrs. Homer and Mrs. Shaw, the fun began. A number of parents were present. The participants were Claire Phillips and Charlotte Edwards, piano recitals; Jean Benway and Lilla Brody, dancing; Francis and Elizabeth Caple, an Irish jig; Peggy Oldham, a very interesting recitation; and Thelma Andrews, songs. After these various performances, refreshments were served, consisting of sandwiches, cake and ice cream. Congratulations were offered Elizabeth Fagerlund, patrol leader, on the success of the entertainment of which she had sole charge.

Mrs. Andrews will play for the folk dancing class.

There will be no meeting today. Good Friday.

All troops are enthusiastic about folk dancing which makes the preparation for the spring rally very pleasant. In many troops the girls are planning their own costumes.

Notes on troop activities must be given by Wednesday noon either to Mrs. Mortimer H. Wells, 4 Brantwood road, or to Mrs. Towne at headquarters. If they are to appear in the Advocate the following Friday.

Scouts' Own is to be held April 10 in the Town Hall. Troop VI is planning to present a pageant, "The Wise and the Foolish Virgins," by Marjorie Lacey-Baker. Troop V is to assist in one scene. A meeting of the general committee was held at headquarters last evening. One girl from each troop is acting on this committee. It was voted (1) that Dr. Franklin P. Hawkes be invited to be the speaker at the service, (2) that the general committee should act as ushers, (3) that there should be programs, and (4) that young children should not be admitted unless accompanied by an older person. There is need of colored scarfs to serve as head-dresses in the pageant. Men's silk lounging robes make splendid robes.

hour of instruction before the corps meeting. Sixteen candidates appeared. The Winchester drum major and the Lexington drum major have visited the corps and led the girls.

On Monday evening the call for candidates for a Girl Scout orchestra was answered by 22 girls. Miss Peirce was present and because of the varying degrees of ability of the players it was decided to form a senior and a junior orchestra, so we have two musical groups instead of one. The senior group will rehearse on Thursday at 6:15 and the juniors at 6:15 on Monday under the direction of Virginia Brooks. We hope both orchestras will play at the May rally and the seniors at Scouts' Own.

On March 21 Mrs. Towne addressed the Woman's Club of the Universalist church on Girl Scouting.

The Leaders' Association met at the Robbins Library at the invitation of the librarian, Mrs. Spofford. After a short business meeting in the hall they adjourned to the children's room where they were addressed by the children's librarian. A display of all books relating to Scouting was shown and it was gratifying to discover that every book listed in the new bibliography sent out by state headquarters is to be found in the library. An informal discussion was heard and later around the fire, each captain gave a brief report of her troop.

The First National Training School circulars are on hand. Five interesting courses are offered this year including camping, troop progress, special activities as nature and dramatics, council members training for five days and folk dancing. It would be establishing a record if Arlington were to be represented at every course.

Future Scout dates of interest are March 15, trip to Hood Creamery at 1:00 from headquarters; no charge. April 10, Scouts' Own in Town Hall, 7:00. April 19, Patriots' Day, May 7, Bugle and Drum Corps Day, May 14, May Monkey Shines at Cedar Hill, May 20, Spring rally in Town Hall, 7:30. June 3, Tentative date for final court of awards.

The artist badge requirements, which may be changed by examiner if so desired, are as follows: one free-hand drawing from flat in pencil; one free-hand drawing in pencil, pen or charcoal from grouped objects; one three-minute free-hand drawing of a person or animal in action; one original design for application on magazine cover, or one original poster; one study in color done in any medium oil, water color, pastel and from any subject except from the flat. The official examiner for Arlington is Miss Ruth Berry of Medford.

BOY SCOUT NEWS

The Finance Committee of Sachem Council, Boy Scouts, met last week at scout headquarters and organized for the coming year. Fred W. Miller of Lexington is chairman and the following scouts are members: Pres. Robert P. Trask of Lexington, ex-officio, Nelson J. Powers, Nils G. Anderson, C. Frederick Evans, Charles W. Ward from Arlington; Bertram F. Garland from Bedford; Joseph E. Perry, Kenneth W. Moody, Everett H. Cargen, William J. Underwood and John Pettigall from Belmont and George E. Smith, George W. Butters and Fletcher Taft from Lexington.

At the regular meeting of Troop 10, Calvary M. E. Church, Friday evening, Warren Fogg of Winchester gave an illustrated talk to the troop on "Building Bird Houses," and "History of Archery and Building of Archery Sets." Mr. Fogg's talk was very interesting and at its close he promised to go to Camp Oak with the troop this spring and give instructions in Archery.

The annual patrol contest of the troop which ends April 15 with an inter-patrol rally and Parents' Night, is drawing to a close with Eagle Patrol, Gordon Anderson, P. L. in first place and Panther Patrol, Vincent Suhr, P. L., a very close second. The troop has just been presented with a fine gift of money by the Women's Friendly Class of the church. This will be used for equipment for the cabin at Camp Oak.

At the Council Court of Honor last week Everett Teague of Troop 23 and Stanley Johnson of Troop 13 were awarded Life Scout badges.

CLOTHING FOR MEN NEEDED BY WELFARE COUNCIL

Clothing for men is needed by the Arlington Welfare Council, according to the chairman, Mrs. Roscoe Perry. During the past week four men have visited the Council headquarters in the Old Town Hall every day, looking for clothes which the clothing room attendants have been unable to provide.

Shoes and trousers are especially needed, but men's clothing of any kind will be gratefully received.

BOY'S SKULL FRACTURED WHEN HIT BY TRUCK

William, seven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. William Schlaigh of 20 Benjamin road was injured by a truck on Massachusetts avenue at Appleton street last Friday evening and hurried to Symmes Arlington Hospital by John J. Gomez of Cambridge, the driver of the truck, in company with Officer White of the police force. Three doctors attended the boy for a fractured skull and other injuries.

According to the report of Mr. Gomez to the police, the lad ran into the side of the truck. For a period of three-quarters of an hour the identity of the boy was not known. A description of him was given to Father Shea of St. John's church, as it was thought that the boy might have been at the church before the accident. It was not until the mother of the lad informed the police that her son was missing, and her description corresponded with that of the boy, that his parents were known.

Sergeant Meagher in Scout Car No. 9, called at the home and drove Mr. Schlaigh to the hospital, where the identification was verified.

Yesterday's report from the hospital was that the boy's condition was unchanged, and that he was still unconscious. His name is on the danger list.

HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

Members of the Dramatic Club are busy rehearsing "Janice Meredith" for the coming public production in April.

A special senior class meeting was held Tuesday, the first period. Mr. Gammons gave a long talk on the subject of the year book and pictures. Although the desired number of seniors have not yet subscribed for the year book, there is going to be one this year at the same price, three dollars per copy. The business committee, headed by Edmund LaFond, are ready to go after advertisements.

This year Waite was chosen as the class photographer. Everyone wishing to have his picture in the year book, must get a glossy from Waite.

Mr. Merrell, the senior class adviser, made a report on the latest developments of the ring committee. The O'Neill Co. is making up sample rings that will be ready sometime next week. The class will then vote on the design.

Miss Virginia Dale returned to school this week, after being absent a week with the grippe.

Safeguard NATURAL CHARM

WATCH YOUR if

if means Intestinal Flora, the plant organisms which live in the digestive tract. The friendly acidophilus type helps normal elimination. The pathogenic types hinder it. Restore a proper balance of flora and health will suffer.

A lively spirit and the glow of health—what better formula for a charming personality could anyone devise? And yet, how easily these are destroyed by the poisons of faulty elimination!

Here's a way to guard against the effects of intestinal sluggishness. Many doctors endorse it—

Drink Walker-Gordon Acidophilus Milk—a preparation of pure, fresh Walker-Gordon milk cultured with a hardy strain of acidophilus bacilli. This will build up in your intestinal tract a sufficient supply of these friendly bacilli to counteract the poisons of decay bred by modern diet. As you replace the flora of decay with the flora of health, your intestinal condition is "sweetened" and regular, natural elimination is encouraged.

Try this pleasant method of encouraging healthy intestinal habits for one month and see the difference it makes!

Early Sunday evening, State Police Officer Borden asked local police to secure information concerning three young men suspected of attempting a hold-up at the Carver Post Office. Investigation by Arlington police revealed that the young men were drunk and had taken the car without authority.

DRAQ ALEWIFE FOR OBJECT THREE MEN THREW IN

Mrs. Cosmo Lombardi, 88 Fairmont street, stated to the police, Sunday night, that three men stopped the car in which they were riding, at the rear of her home, threw some object into Alewife Brook and drove away. APPEARANCE OF OFFICER FRIGHTENS AWAY THIEF

Shortly before three o'clock Monday morning, Officer J. Donovan saw a man run from the rear of the stores at 1041 Massachusetts avenue and disappear towards the brook on Dudley street. Officers were sent in scout cars but the man could not be found. Evidence of him may be on the front door of Battle Spa and Howell Sisters' Bakery at 1048 and 1050 Massachusetts avenue led the police to believe that a break had been thwarted.

BANDITS TAKE FIFTY DOLLARS FROM BROADWAY SPA

Two armed men stepped into the Broadway Spa, 203 Broadway, Monday night and held up Mines Minasian. They robbed the store of $50.00 and Mr. Minasian of $5.00. They fled in a car with a third man and were seen to disappear without lights down River street.

One of those who entered the store is described as 18 years old, 5 ft. 8 inches tall, about 155 lbs., wearing a plaid jacket and brown soft hat. Mr. Minasian can give no accurate description of his companions. Early the following morning Mr. Minasian was asked by local police to accompany them to Boston where Station 5 was holding three men as suspects, but none of these could be identified as concerned in the Broadway Spa hold-up. ASSOCIATES CHAMPIONS IN EXCITING FINISH

The Associates carried off the championship of the K. of C. Bowling League after an exciting contest on the Regent Alleys last Monday evening. Before the game began the Wacos had a one point lead for the championship. Then the Associates took the first string—and all the others—from the Old Timers; the Wacos lost the first string and this won. This brought all three teams into a tie for the championship and made the evening an exciting one. For the entire evening the Wacos split even with the Fillers and the Pals with the Fuses.

John Bishop of the Associates was high man for the evening with a three string total of 319. Charles M. Pierson of the Old Timers and W. Golden of the Fuses tied for high single with 116. On the winning team with Mr. Bishop are Charles LaBrique, John Hendrick, David T. Dale and Thomas Donnelly.

Next Thursday evening the winners will be given a banquet in K. of C. Hall. At that time the cup will be presented to them and gifts to the following winners: individual high string for the season, William Ryan, 145; high three string, David T. Dale, 344; high average, Patrick Donnelly, 96.

Contract bridge players will be interested to know that the unit of the World Olympic Bridge Tournament, which is to be played on April 1
next, has been formed in Somerville, under the auspices of the Central Club of that city. Bridge players in 30 countries around the globe, including every American state and most cities of importance, will participate and the total of individual entries is close to 50,000.

Prepared hands, sent out under seal, will be opened at 8 p. m. on the evening of April 1 and the players will all take up the identical cards that the other entrants are holding all over the world. Valuable prizes are offered by the National Association and, in addition, prizes are offered for local winners.

These hands are designed as a test of sound Contract bidding and play.
Players may use any system or no system at all if they prefer. The hands are not "freaks" or "loaded" with catches, but are such as are likely to turn up at play anywhere at any time.

A few tables still need to be filled and Arlington Contract players are invited to send in their entries and "take a hand" on Friday week. Play

"THE NEW MOON"

Firm in the belief that playgoers want quality entertainment at a scale of prices within the reach of everybody, the first "The New Moon" will begin a two weeks engagement at the Boston Opera House on Wednesday, March 30th.

Each production will be professionally cast, with recognized stars and operatic people of note, and in most instances the original stars will be found in the list of principals of each play. The companies and productions intact will come to Boston, and each chorus will be augmented by fifty local professional girls, an ensemble in keeping with the huge proportions of the Boston Opera House stage.

"The New Moon" chronicles the daring adventures of one Robert Mission, whose carelessness with the lives of royal subjects has made him an enemy of France. Disguised as a bondservant in the house of Monsieur Beaumont, fight down here in our own New Orleans. Robert makes romantic love to his mistress, Marianne, and leads the revolutionists at the "Chez Creole" tavern. The authors contrive his capture by the king's representatives at a masked ball, put him in chains on the good ship New Moon, where his mistress follows loyally, arrange an attack by pirates, put him in command of the ship and find a way alternately to separate and join loving hearts.

The score by Sigmund Romberg, deep, rushing, stirring, is one of the best written for several years. Charlotte Lansing and Michael Barrett head the large cast, among whom are Louise Brown, Zella Russell, Cornelia Ellis, Marice Christy, Harry K. Morton, John Clark, John Galsworthy, Joseph Wilkins, Chester Harmon, Rollins Grimes, Luke Metz and Cortez and Peggy, and a large singing and dancing chorus.

ARLINGTON RIFLE CLUB LOSES TIE TO BOSTON

The season's series of indoor rifle matches scheduled between teams comprising the American Legion Veteran and Civilian Rifle League, resulted in a triple tie between the Marines from the Boston Navy Yard, Arlington Rifle Club Team No. 1, and the Boston Rifle and Revolver Club, each winning twelve matches and losing one.

The tie was shot off Wednesday night at the First Corps Cadets Armory, Columbus avenue, Boston, with a large gathering present. National Rifle Association, six bull targets were used. The course of fire was ten shots standing, time limit ten minutes a man; ten shots prone with five sighting shots, time limit fifteen minutes, five highest totals to count for each team.

The event was won by the Boston Rifle and Revolver Club with a total of 392 points, defeating the Arlington team by 11 points and the Marines by 41 points.

Team captains were Kelly for Boston, Keller for Arlington and Richards for the Marines. The range officer was Lieut. Sweeney (National Guard). Scorers were George G. Colby of American Legion League and Malcolm F. Partidge of the Brantree Rifle Club. The scores follow:

HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

It has been announced that a prize of five dollars will be given to the person in the Dramatic Club selling the most tickets for the coming performance of "Janice Meredith" in the Town Hall. The minimum number of tickets to be sold is thirty. If no one sells that many, no one gets a prize.

Miss Evelyn O'Neill, member of the class of '31 of Arlington High School, has recently been elected Freshman Representative to the Senior Prom at Lesley's School.

The class variety teams in basketball won by large margins in the game with Melrose, March 23. This game completes the basketball season.

The Senior class voted to give Mr. Morrill, class adviser; Elmer Ziegler, class president; and Helen O'Connor, vice-president, power to select all the committees on the year book.

Spring athletics are starting with the completion of the winter sports. All aspirants for tennis and baseball met after school Thursday to sign up.

"LADY WITH A PAST" AT UNIVERSITY THEATRE

Constance Bennett looks her loveliest and gives the best performance of her career in "Lady With a Past", the screen version of Harriet Henry's famous novel, which starts Sunday at the University for four days. "Lady With a Past" is an ultra-modern comedy on the sophisticated side, with just enough romance to add dash and flavor.

In "The Hatchet Man", the companion feature adapted from the play, "The Honorable Mr. Wong", Edward G. Robinson portrays a feared member of a tong, whose vowed duty is to carry out the edicts of the secret society by way of the hatchet, even when it is his boyhood friend who must suffer the death penalty. The leading feminine role is played by Loretta Young as Toya San, ward, wife and object of protection to Mr. Wong.

A CHANGE IN EMPHASIS

On Sunday, Christian churches all over the world will celebrate the festival of the resurrection. Their congregations will hear again the joyful message of the renewal of life, the message that is so appropriate to the season of budding trees and flowers and springing grass.

But Easter means, or should mean, more than this; it should mean not only life renewed but life made over. It should give to us new aspirations and the strength to keep these aspirations before us.

This is a materialistic age; the statement has been made so often that we accept it without question. To this materialism are traced many of the evils of the time. It is, many believe, the desire for material things that is the cause of war. Constant expansion by all nations is bound to result in collisions.

In the new life that Easter brings to us we might at least consider a change of viewpoint with regard to material things—a little thought as to whether our happiness depends so entirely as we apparently think it does, on what we own and on the activities that these possessions make possible for us.

It is reported that when a journalist asked Thomas A. Edison on his last, or his next to the last birthday, what he thought about happiness, he replied simply, "I am not acquainted with anyone who is happy."

Unquestionably, Mr. Edison knew many men whose possessions are as great as any of us would dream of desiring. Didn't the "Wizard of Menlo Park," himself a successful man, number among his friends Henry Ford and Harvey Firestone? If riches bring happiness would they not be among the happiest men in the world?

But, in spite of the fact that we are most of us materialists, we are not so foolish as to believe that if we are rich we will be happy. We may believe, however, that if we are not rich we will not be happy, and that is not true, either.

Money is not needed to buy all of the "White hyacinths" that feed our souls. We do not pay for the "purple morning," the sunset sky, the violets in the deep grass, the scarlet columbine atop the gray rock—the beauties of spring, summer, fall and winter are ours if we have the capacity to enjoy them.

We need not follow in the footsteps of St. Francis, though Mr. Edison would probably have found him a happy man. A sufficient change may be simply in emphasis; the realization that what we are is more important than what we have.

A JUST REWARD

The members of the Finance Committee may well feel that the action of Wednesday's Town Meeting is a reward for the many hours of hard and conscientious work they put in before their recommendations finally took shape. Evidently the Town Meeting members recognized the fact that these men, who had been working with the members of the various town departments in an effort to reduce expenses, were better qualified to speak than they were.

This readiness to follow the recommendations—it might even be called enthusiasm for them—makes it practically certain that the appropriations will go through just as they were laid out by the committee. This means that the tax rate will be practically as estimated, providing of course that the assessors do not surprise us either by bringing the valuation below sixty million or by refusing to reduce it at all. In the latter case, of course, the rate would be lower than had been hoped.

Certainly, with so efficient a Finance Committee and Town Meeting members so amenable to reason, Arlington need not fear reaching the pass of Mashpee, in danger of being "wiped off the map."

Rather, we may look forward to coming through the depression in such a condition that the period of prosperity, which everyone knows is coming, will not have to be spent in paying back debts.

The town meeting Wednesday night was both interesting and uninteresting. It was interesting in the thoroughness of the bolt to strict economy and the rigid adherence to the recommendations of the Finance Committee. But from a newspaper man's point of view, it was as dry as a bone in the desert. Cut and dried. The Finance Committee did the cutting and the town meeting members were very efficient in drying up the conscientious objectors.

For the second successive time, Selectman Leonard Collins did not sit with his colleagues in the front row of the section reserved for town meeting members. But on second thought that fact is not very surprising. Mr. Collins is not a town meeting member. According to the rules, the chairman of the Board of Selectmen is the only member of that board who may sit with the town meeting members by virtue of his office.

When we noted the fact that Mr. Collins did not sit with the rest of the selectmen at the last town meeting, it never occurred to us that Leonard was not a town meeting member as well as a Selectman. In the past it has been customary for a candidate for selectman to run also for town meeting membership—the idea being that one slice of bread is better than none at all. But in the past election Leonard's name did not appear twice upon the ballot. He banked his all upon his chances as selectman, and subsequent events proved him a good banker.

Hollis M. Gott, who was slightly defeated by Mr. Collins in the election just passed, appears to be in very good spirits in spite of his apparent misfortune. In fact, being relieved of the responsibilities of the office which he held for six years, seems to have materially improved his peace of mind.

After the town meeting the other night he borrowed Jim Carmody's keys and pushing through the little crowd which was waiting to get into the office of the selectmen for one reason or another, he said, "Come, allow me to let you into my private office." No sour grapes there.

The committee which has been investigating the school system of Arlington with particular reference to the cost of operation, proved itself right in the spirit of the times. As its chairman, Arthur O. Yeames, reported Wednesday night, it made suggestions which will save the town $90,500 in the cost of operating the schools, and then to put a master's touch on the economy program, spent only $75 of the $400 appropriated for its use.

Speaking of $400, the Friends of the Drama will shortly write a check for approximately that amount in favor of the Unemployment Social Service Committee—the money being the net proceeds from the play, "Caesar Has a Fever," given in the Town Hall two weeks ago, advertised for unemployment benefit. The organization is so enthusiastic about its splendid showing that the annual spring play will probably be another benefit with another worthy charitable organization as the beneficiary.

In speaking of the Pleasant Avenue School which is contemplated for 1933, Edward L. Shinn, secretary of the committee, which has secured plans and estimates, said in town meeting that the proposed building will have a cupola. Cupolas seem to be almost mandatory in Arlington's public building architecture at the present time. But in this case the appendage is to serve a purpose other than merely ornamental. It will also serve as a ventilator for the building. That fact ought to silence some of those who have been objecting to spending so much money for "Christmas tree ornaments."

In presenting the final report of the high school building committee (the Board of Selectmen), Chairman Hauser pulled one which made even the Moderator smile. The total cost of the building, Mr. Hauser said, was $276,950.30, with an unexpected balance of $49.70. In the past, at least, unexpected balances have certainly been unexpected.

Chairman Davis of the Finance Committee wanted to discharge the committee on investigating the condition of Spy Pond which reported at the last annual town meeting. But Alfred W. Lombard, Jr., chairman, objected, saying that his committee had already been discharged. In these days it's tough enough without being fired twice from the same job. We do not blame Mr. Lombard for objecting.

Let our hopefully facetious remarks be misleading, let us say that Mr. Davis proved himself a great chairman of a great committee. The various votes Wednesday night substantiated our pre-conceived notion that the Finance Committee had succeeded in reducing the various budgets in a particularly effective and impartial manner. It has accomplished the apparently impossible without crippling a single department and without impairing the standards which Arlington has set for itself.

And Mr. Davis had all his facts right at his finger tips. Not only that, but he presented them with such force and assurance that the vote was never in doubt after he had spoken.

While congratulations are in order, let us say that the work of the Finance Committee in reducing budgets would have been impossible in fact were it not for the unrelenting cooperation it received from the very departments which were affected. It is comparatively easy to reduce the pay of a man who thinks perhaps he could get along with a little less under the circumstances.

M. Norcross Stratton, chairman of the School Committee, made a pair of substitute motions under the article covering the school department budget. He moved that the amount to be appropriated for instruction be boosted five thousand dollars and that the capital outlay figure be raised fifteen hundred dollars. But there was a big difference between the two substitutions. In the first instance, the Chairman of the Finance Committee said that perhaps his committee had cut the price pretty thin and if the watchdogs of the treasury were meeting at that moment, they would probably recommend the five thousand dollar increase. But they would not countenance a greater amount for capital outlay.

The result was that the first motion was passed practically unanimously and the second was defeated just as enthusiastically. The Finance Committee Chairman is almost in a class with the Chief of Police. He is a good man to have on your side.

When the matter of the Police Department budget came up M. Edward Gaddis gave quite a lengthy dissertation. He had facts and figures to prove that the force was undermanned. What he wanted was more police protection for the school children, particularly those who attend the new John Q. A. Brackett School at the Heights. Mr. Gaddis had apparently gone to some trouble in digging up data on the police departments of other towns, but he made the mistake of failing to present his substitute motion in the proper form, which fact gave the Moderator some inconvenience and rendered the hitherto patient town meeting members much less patient. Consequently, he was voted down with more than a little gusto.

Notwithstanding, we agree with Mr. Gaddis that the school children should receive police protection from traffic as they are coming and going. At present, there are no officers available to detail to these duties, but that should not deter us.

Whether it be feasible or not, we should like to make a suggestion. At present there is always a traffic jam on duty at St. Agnes School during the changes. Would it not be possible to substitute a fireman and relieve this officer for duty at a more distant point. Then in case of fire the fireman would be within easy running distance of the Central Fire Station, and no more money need be appropriated for the Police Department.

Chief Tierney may have grave objections to such an arrangement, but then again, perhaps he may not.

We have a letter in regard to a mistake in identity made in this column last week.

Relative to our telephone conversation of the 18th, referring to an article on page 6, under the heading of "Here and There," would say that you have made an error in the name of the person referred to. It was I, not the person stated in your article, that had the presence of mind to call the attention of the Moderator to the fact that he had omitted to swear in the newly elected Town Meeting Members. This is the second time you have made this error. The first time was on or about the 18th of July, 1931, when you printed in your paper an article referring to the action of another Town Meeting Member and printed my name instead of his. This time you have printed his instead of mine.

Would like to have you make the correction in the next issue of your paper as I think it is expedient.

Trusting that you will give this matter the attention you think it should have, I am

Respectfully yours,
W. Arthur Taylor,
Town Meeting Member,
Precinct 13

We made the same remark before with telling effect: so we shall make it again. Mrs. Roscoe R. Perry needs pants. That fact might be surprising were it not that Mrs. Perry is head of the Welfare Council. She always needs things for other people.

In emphasizing the present need for pants the Welfare Council might use the old gag which the pant manufacturers used to employ in their advertising:

When the pant hunter panteth
Unpanted for pants,
And pants for the best pants
The pant market grants.
He panteth unpanted
Until he implants
Himself in a pair of
Our Plymouth Rock Pants.

SOPHISTICATED ONLOOKER.

MRS. CURRY'S CLASSES HAVE THEIR FINAL PARTIES

Last Friday afternoon the Town Hall was the scene of much hilarity and enjoyment, when Mrs. Grace Dwyer Curry's classes in dancing held their final party in the evening. The hall was decorated in a combination of Easter and St. Patrick's Day symbols, with bunnies, ducks and Irish flags. The stage looked as if it were taken from some botanical garden, for it was resplendent with flowers.

At three o'clock, the beginners held their little party and what a time they had! Seeing the way they danced in the Town Hall made the spectators wonder how Mrs. Curry had accomplished what she has in the brief eighteen lessons. When the favors were given out, one might have thought another Armistice had been signed, to hear the noise. Mrs. Curry and her assistant, Miss Barbara Llewellyn, were dressed very attractively in afternoon gowns. The matrons, Mrs. Edward B. Schwamb and Mrs. H. C. Lawless, were presented with beautiful bouquets by Mrs. Curry. The ushers for this party were Richard Stephenson, John Buntun, Lawrence Keefe and Clarence Cooke.

At four o'clock the "little tots" went up on the stage to enjoy their ice cream and the Intermediate and Junior High School classes held their joint party. Here again, enjoyment was evidenced by the happy, smiling group which filled the hall. Favors were given to the children and their guests time and again, and the matrons, Mrs. Clifford Birch, Mrs. W. John Stephenson, Mrs. S. B. Allen, and Mrs. Walter N. Cargill, were presented with bouquets. The ushers for this party were Peter Gray, Robert Clifford, Walter Bullock, George Savage, Jack Hoffman, Chandler Lewis, Paul West, Malcolm Teale and Robert Turner.

On Saturday evening the High School class held its party in Odd Fellows' Hall. The hall was decorated in the same style as the Town Hall on the previous afternoon. The "grown-up" class had a splendid time with the noise-makers and other favors. Mrs. W. L. Benjamin, Mrs. Frederick Parker and Mrs. J. A. Malcolm were matrons and were presented with beautiful bouquets by Mrs. Curry.

At all the parties Russell Curry's class in tap gave exhibitions which were enjoyed by all. Many parents and friends filled both balconies of the halls and evidently enjoyed watching.

These parties ended the lessons for this season. Mrs. Curry and her pupils are looking forward to the re-opening of classes next fall.

ered the gas consumption just about enough to allow them to reach their destination. In fact, during the last score of miles the wings had to be tilted frequently to get gas flowing into the carburetors. Only five gallons remained out of seven hundred twenty-eight. Actually they flew some six thousand miles but they are credited with the geographical distance of five thousand and eleven miles.

The most astonished person of the multitude which greeted the flyers was Major Coste of France who then held the non-stop record. At first dubious, he finally congratulated the American birdmen in truly French fashion.

Lieut. Polando was introduced by J. Ralph Torrey, Inspector of Aviation for the State Department of Public Works. The members learned a great deal from Mr. Torrey about the inspection and licensing of pilots and planes, and the supervision of landing fields. One realized the importance of the work being done by the state and federal authorities to make the airways as safe as any other means of transportation.

Interesting motion pictures of the East Boston Airport were exhibited by Stanley Whitney of Medford. Mr. Torrey made a "talkie" of the film by identifying buildings and planes. At the close of the meeting another reel was shown that gave the audience the thrill of looking down from a plane flying over the skyscrapers of lower New York.

Percy Moody, who had to sit at the head table when he drew seat number thirteen in a scheme to get the members more generally acquainted, made a nice little speech in which he discussed the new policies of the club management.

During the business meeting the sum of one hundred dollars was voted toward the Easter collection of the church. R. G. Dutton reported that the three dancing assemblies were not only a social success, but produced a net profit of seventy-three dollars. Roy Shaw announced that all members would be canvassed about attendance at Ladies' Night, April 30, which promises to be an enjoyable occasion.

Russell Hamlet, Carl Nordin, and Frank H. Robbins were elected to membership.

Whereas it has pleased our Heavenly Father to remove from the sphere of his usefulness in this World, the soul of our loved and respected Brother William Robert Gosse.

Therefore be it resolved that we the members of Loyal Mystic Lodge No. 7869 I. O. O. F. M. U., of Medford, Mass., do sincerely mourn his loss. He was our youngest member, a good worker and willing to assist at any time when requested by the Officers. He was always to be found at his usual place at our meetings.

His genial personality reflected a kind and generous heart, and he will be sadly missed at our gatherings.

We send our sincere sympathy to all who mourn this great loss.

CHURCHES OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST

"Reality" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, March 27.

The Golden Text is: "Since the beginning of the world, the world hath been the eye seen, O God, beside thee, what he hath prepared for him that waiteth for him: and he shall see the face of the Father." (Luke 12:32)

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "And it came to pass, when he was in a certain city, behold a man full of leprosy: who seeing Jesus fell on his face, and besought him, saying, Lord, if thou wilt, thou canst make me clean. And he put forth his hand, and touched him, saying, I will: be thou clean. And immediately the leprosy departed from him." (Luke 14:1-2)

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "All reality is in God and His creation. He creates all that is, and He makes all that is made. Therefore the only reality of sin, sickness, or death is the awful fact that unrealities seem real to human, erring belief, until God strips off their disguise. They are not true, because they are not of God." (p. 472)

TOWN MEETING FOLLOWS

FIN. COM. RECOMMENDATIONS

of a cut in the budgets than the actual figures indicate. Since the town has continued to grow at a rapid rate during the past year, there would actually have been a substantial cut, were the amount appropriated no more than last year.

To be strictly accurate, $3,600 should be subtracted from the amount appropriated this year to cover the departmental budgets, because that amount was added to the requests of the selectmen because of a technicality. Article 48 in the warrant called for the same amount for the improvement of three pieces of town property, but upon request of the Town Accountant, the item was shifted to the Selectmen's budget.

No New Schools Asked For

In reporting for the committee on additional school accommodations, Earl Ryder, the chairman, said that his committee was making no recommendations for the year, but warned the town that facilities of the Hardy and Crosby Schools in the lower end of the town must be enlarged in the near future, and that his committee would report in 1933.

Upon request of Mr. Bitzer, the committee to investigate the town government was discharged, since its work is done. The findings and recommendations of the committee are now in the form of a bill before the State Legislature. When passed it will be presented to the voters of the town at the primaries this fall.

When additional appropriations were involved, M. Norcross Stratton, chairman of the School Committee, was the only one who succeeded in getting a substitute motion passed. His called for the additional amount of $5,000 for instructional service. To be accurate, Mr. Stratton made three motions. The first required that $6,500 be added to the amount recommended by the Finance Committee, $5,000 for instructional service and $1,500 for capital outlay. But when Mr. Davis, in speaking for the Finance Committee, said that his associates would probably vote in favor of the first motion, but not the second, Mr. Stratton withdrew his first motion at the suggestion of Moderator William B. Barry, and presented the amounts in two different substitute motions. The first was passed and the second was found "good."

G. Bertram Washburn, former chairman of the Finance Committee, failed in a substitute motion which would increase the reserve fund of the Finance Committee from $15,000 to $18,000. Mr. Washburn explained that the second amount was less than one per cent of the total taxation, which was little enough to allow for unforeseen expenses.

Plea for Police Protection for Children

When the matter of the Police Department budget came up, M. Edward Gaddis of Precinct 14 made a plea for police protection for the new Brackett School, and since the present force is not large enough to allow a man being detailed to that post, Mr. Gaddis offered a substitute motion calling for the addition of a man to the police force, entailing an additional appropriation of $1,215 for the balance of the year.

Mr. Davis replied that the police radio which was voted earlier in the evening and the traffic lights are calculated to relieve the police department and that no additional men are necessary at this time. The Finance Committee was upheld.

Chairman Walter F. Robinson said that the amount recommended for the Board of Public Works this year was not sufficient to carry on the removal of offal and rubbish as efficiently as before, but he offered no substitute motion, and the recommendation of the Finance Committee went through unchanged.

William A. Muller, chairman of the trustees of the Robbins Library, protested that the amount for the library was barely adequate, but he also offered no substitute motion.

In the matter of construction of sidewalks and installation of edge stones, William F. Holian of Precinct 5 offered an amendment to the motion of the Finance Committee which provided that the work be done by town labor in so far as possible, if the amount were appropriated. His amendment was favorably received and the amount of $8,000 appropriated for the work.

The same gentleman presented a similar motion under the article which provided for grading the Brackett School playground. But this time he was not willing to insert the phrase, "in so far as possible," Lester W. Collins of the Employment Committee, said that his committee had received the full cooperation of the School Committee in the past. Mr. Stratton said that some outside equipment was necessary for the removal of otherwise immovable rocks and other obstructions. This time the substitute motion failed.

Cost of Connecting Link Reduced

Mr. Stratton's substitute motion which reduced the amount to be appropriated for the connecting link between the new and the old high school buildings from $27,000 to $18,000 received a unanimous vote.

Only three streets were considered before the meeting adjourned. As none were recommended for acceptance, the Finance Committee, substitute motions were offered for the acceptance of Bailey road, Brooks avenue and Edmund road, the three voted upon Wednesday evening. But none of the substitutes were successful. The votes against accepting the streets were most emphatic.

For Bailey road, Albert W. Wanderly offered the substitute motion; Leo A. Murphy, for Brooks avenue, and Chester K. Wanamaker for Edmund road. Several people spoke in favor of the substitute motions, but without success.

"The Myth" for Easter</

WOMAN'S CLUB HEARS STORIES
ABOUT AUTHORS*Mrs. Blackington Tells Her Experiences as Interviewer.

Mrs. Marion T. Blackington, the speaker at the meeting of the Woman's Club last week took as her subject "Authors and Personalities." She told her hearers interesting stories of the authors she had met, and, as associate editor of Creative Reading, she had had the opportunity to meet many.

The musical program, which preceded the lecture, was given by Bernard Zighera, first harpist of the Boston Symphony Orchestra. His Debussy numbers were especially good. The audience was more than usually responsive and gave him a hearty encore.

The president of the club, Mrs. Franklin P. Hawkes, who presided at the business meeting, the secretary, Mrs. M. L. Sorensen, and the chairman of the literature committee, Mrs. William G. Brooks, were all nervous because Mrs. Blackington did not appear until just one minute before it was time for her talk. Accordingly, Mrs. Brooks made the theme of her introduction, "Better late than never."

Mrs. Blackington told first of her interview with J. B. Priestley. She was standing near him, she said, listening to the comments of those who had heard him lecture. One man asked him, "Why did you come to America?" "When I started, I thought I should enjoy it," said Priestley, "but I have changed my mind."

She spoke of Dorothy Canfield Fisher as an author who takes great pains with her writing, sometimes writing an incident over a thousand times before she is satisfied. Mrs. Fisher does her own housework but has a secretary to help her with her writing. She takes great pride in living in Arlington, Vermont, where only three new people have settled in the last three years.

William Faulkner, one of the younger writers, she confessed, shocked her, though she believed that a critic should keep an open mind.

Of Sinclair Lewis, she asked what was the most humorous thing he saw in England. His reply was, "The king and queen riding down the streets, all those Englishmen about and no one snickering." He

Carens Entertains
Middlesex Sportsmen

Last Thursday evening, the members and friends of the Middlesex Sportsman's Association were most pleasantly entertained by George C. Carens, 10 Upland road, sporting editor of the Boston Evening Transcript.

He chose as the subject of his talk the Olympic athletic games at Amsterdam in 1928, which he witnessed. Thus, his talk was mostly of personal reminiscences pertaining to the contestants and experiences in the city itself. He denounced the accounts in the newspapers at the time, which made it appear that there was friction between the different countries, whereas he was able to state from personal knowledge that good sportsmanship universally prevailed. The same was true at Lake Placid this winter; the contestants showed good sportsmanship at all times.

During the course of his recital, Mr. Carens gave Arthur Duffy, 74 Orris road, the highest praise. The speaker also hazarded predictions of the winners for the coming Olympic games this summer in Los Angeles. He believes that Frank Wykoff will win the hundred yard dash.

After Mr. Carens' address, the Chicago championship boxing bout pictures between Dempsey and Tunney, were thrown on the screen. The usual refreshments followed the entertainment.

MRS. BYRAM ENTERTAINS AT LUNCHEON BRIDGE

Mrs. Edward Byram, formerly of Arlington, gave a luncheon bridge in honor of Mrs. Herbert Rich and Mrs. Kate Rapley on Monday afternoon at her home in Cambridge.

The first prize was won by Mrs. Walter Vaughn, Mrs. Rapley, second. The honor guests were given souvenir gifts by the hostess.

MUSICAL COMEDY NEXT MONDAY IN TOWN HALL

For the past two months Miss Laura A. Hallisey of Arlington Heights has been directing rehearsal for a Musical Comedy which is to be presented next Monday evening in Robbins Memorial Town Hall. Miss Hallisey has instructed a chorus of seventy-five in many new songs and dance hits. Among these are "Bend Down, Sister," sixteen girls doing a new Tiller on the floor; the "Penthouse Serenade," a Manhattan love-nest up on the roof, accompanied by Jean Brogan of "Jean and Jackie" fame; "Sweethearts on Parade," eight boys and eight girls who do an intricate soft shoe dance. For the old folks there is "Put on Your Old Grey Bonnet," sung by Kathryn Kelley and Frank Kenney, and a chorus of sixteen boys and girls. A feature number will be a horse dance by James Colgan, the head, and Philip Whitney, the tail.

The closing number consists of fourteen men in a military drill, nine Red Cross nurses in a cape drill, sixteen of Laura's Little Ladies, singing Miss Hallisey's own version of "Who's Sorry Now?" and, last of all, a military tap by Miss Hallisey.

Hundreds of tickets have been sold for this show which will be followed by ballroom dancing. Tickets may be secured at 1201 Massachusetts avenue, Arlington Heights; Miss Hallisey's studio, or by phoning Arl. 1892.

COMEDY PLEASES
LARGE AUDIENCE
AT ST. JAMES HALL

An audience which filled St. James Hall last Thursday evening enjoyed the play, "Mary Muldoon's Morning", which was presented by the Sunday School Teachers' Association of St. James Church, with Mrs. Alice I. Golan acting as coach. The part of Mrs. Muldoon was taken by Natalie Burke, that of her mother, Granny O'Grady, by Winifred Behlen; Mrs. Richard Flynn, Sue Griffin; Mrs. Reginald Delaney, Elvira Garlepy; postman, Bernard Brawley.

Helen Sullivan and Teresa Sullivan pleased the audience with the "Irish Washerwoman" and a waltz clog, and Joseph Carvell and Mrs. Mary V. O'Brien with vocal solos. The proceeds will go to the church building fund.

TALK ON PERENNIALS AT STATE GARDEN SCHOOL

Wednesday the Garden School was held as usual at Cedar Hill, when Professor Thayer of Amherst gave an illustrated lecture on "Perennials." The slides shown were particularly beautiful. The talk was very instructive because, due to the informality of the class, the speaker allowed himself to be interrupted by questions, to which he gave direct and concise answers.

TREFOIL LEAGUE PRESENTS
COMEDY, "IT'S UP TO YOU"

The Trefoil League of Trinity Baptist church entertained a large audience in the Park Avenue Congregational Parish House last Friday evening with their presentation of the three-act comedy, "It's Up to You". Between the acts Miss Audrey Anderson played the piano and Charles Clough, the piano.

The play was directed by Miss Marjorie Manning. The parts, all excellently acted, were taken as follows: Ruth Carlton, a society girl, Dorothy Maynard; Peter Manning, her fiancé, Marchant Eldridge; Mrs. Carlton, her mother, Ruth A. Freeman; Dorothy Carlton, her cousin, Eleanor Maynard; Richard Stackpole, a real estate broker, George N. Stevens; Harvey Bean, his assistant, Douglas E. Currie; Mrs. Stackpole, Richard's mother, Priscilla Freeman; Helen Prescott, a stenographer, Florence Conroy; Mary, Mrs. Carlton's maid, Eunice Chase.

Cowie and Wunderly Delegates to Detroit

At the meeting of the Arlington Kiwanis Club at Wyman's English Tavern last week, District Trustee Allen E. Cowie and President Albert W. Wunderly were elected delegates to the coming International Convention at Detroit. Edward Hutchinson and Walter T. Chamberlain were elected delegates.

The speaker of the day was Rev. Robert Walker, chaplain of the Concord Reformatory. Mr. Walker proved to be a story teller and wit as well as a dealer in serious facts concerning prisons and prison life. He has the distinction of being one of the few men who have addressed the Kiwanis Club in recent months who has not blamed the present wave of lawlessness upon prohibition. Rather, he blames it upon the relaxation of the discipline of the youth in all classes, from the social elite to the tenement dweller.

Physical discipline is not most effective with some individuals, but some of the best child welfare work, he said, is done in the woodshed with a shingle as the board of education. There is an idea now that children must be allowed to "live their own lives." That may be, but children need watching so that little faults may not develop into criminal instincts.

The speaker said that he talked recently with an ex-bankster who was serving a long term in Charlestown Prison. The man said that he was not in prison for stealing twenty thousand dollars from his bank. When he was a little boy eight years old his mother sent him to the store to buy some things. On the way home he had a conversation with the change in his pocket. "If mother doesn't ask for you," he said, "I'll keep you."

Mother did not ask for the change and she failed to ask for it many times after that. The result was that the boy grew to be a man who had formed the habit of petty thefts whenever he had the chance. It was easy when he grew to be fifty years of age to plot the theft of twenty thousand dollars. "I am serving this term for my first step in crime, not my last," he told the chaplain.

PHILATHEA MEMBERS HEAR SPEAKER FROM PHILIPPINES

The Philathea Society of the First Baptist church held its March meeting Monday evening in Social Hall. A delicious supper was served under the direction of Mrs. William Patterson and Mrs. E. L. Morgan and their committee. The tables were tastefully decorated with spring flowers, carrying out the thought of Easter.

The meeting opened with a hymn, after which Mrs. Carl W. Patriquin led in prayer. Mrs. A. E. Stevens, society president, presided over the business meeting.

Rev. Fred B. Ford of the Philippines was the speaker of the evening. He gave a most interesting talk on his experiences among the Filipinos, which was greatly enjoyed by all.

Before the close of the meeting a gift of candy and neckties was collected to be sent to the World War veterans at the hospital in Bedford.

The meeting adjourned after the singing of "God Be with You Till We Meet Again" and the repetition of the Mizpah benediction.

MISS HILL ENTERTAINS FRIENDS AT BRIDGE

Miss Betty Hill entertained at a bridge party given at her home last Friday night. Miss Hill, who is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. George O. Russell of Jason street, lives in Florida, but is attending school here. The guests included the Misses Jean Marsh, Mary Murphy, Barbara Downs, Adelaide Smart, Sally Powers, Elizabeth Low, Margaret Bailey, Ruth Carlton, Miriam Shedd, Mary Turner, Louise Turner, Natalie Peirce, June Brackett and Bee McRobbie of Newton. Miss Miriam Shedd was the winner of the first prize. Miss Elizabeth Low, the second, and Miss Barbara Downs, consolation. After the bridge refreshments were served by the hostesses.

ARLINGTON BOY PLANS TO CLIMB MT. FAIRWEATHER

Walter Everett of 44 Brantwood road is preparing, according to a story in Sunday's Herald, to attempt the ascent of Mt. Fairweather in Alaska, in June. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Horace D. Everett of 44 Brantwood road, and is a member of the class of '33 at Harvard. He will make the trip in a party headed by Bradford Washburn, who tried two years ago to make the ascent.

They plan to start from Boston about the middle of June, shipping supplies and equipment ahead. From Juneau, Alaska, they will go by plane, landing at the foot of the mountain and establishing their base there. Their purpose is threefold—to get to the top of the mountain, to get a good set of motion pictures of the ascent and to make an accurate map of the region, which has never been thoroughly charted.

Last summer Everett and Washburn went to Europe and used Mont Blanc as a training field, perfecting themselves in climbing. In travelling over the ice and snow and in taking motion pictures at high altitudes, Everett will be second in command of the Alaskan expedition.

—Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Doherty of 53 Broadway are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son.

ASK PEDDLERS TO SHOW LICENSES
SAYS BULLOCK

Chief of Police Archie Bullock urges Arlington householders to ask any persons who come to their doors with articles for sale to show their permits. When the chief says permits, he means those given by the Arlington Police Department, not state or company licenses.

Arlington, he says, has been fortunate so far in the small number of daytime breaks that have been made within its borders as compared with those in surrounding towns and cities. For instance, the man caught by Sergeant Ryan recently was charged with thirty-seven breaks, eighteen of which were in Newton and only one in Arlington. This, he thinks, is due to the preventive work that is being done.

A part of this preventive work is the care that is taken in the giving of permits for door to door sales. Applicants for such permits are carefully questioned and the permits are given only to those who are shown to be reliable. Calling at the door is sometimes a way to find out whether anyone is at home, and sometimes a way to find out something about the house. Asking to see permits will aid the police in the prevention of breaks.

TWO ARLINGTON BOYS HONOR STUDENTS AT TILTON SCHOOL

Two Arlington boys, Philip Beasley and Robert Grannan, are honor students at the Tilton School according to the roll announced recently by Thomas W. Watkins, headmaster.

Beasley, who is the son of Mrs. Joseph L. Beasley of 22 Avon place, Arlington, captured the Tilton varsity eleven last fall. He formerly attended Arlington High School.

Grannan, a graduate of Arlington High last June, is the son of William D. Grannan of 14 Wyman terrace. Besides being an honor student, he also, is active in sports.

TELLS WOMAN'S CLUB OF WELL KNOWN AUTHORS

named childlessness as the outstanding characteristic of Americans; that and the fact that they voted for prohibition.

And, in passing, Mrs. Blackington remarked that H. L. Mencken was a guest of the Lewis's. Mencken is considered up-to-date, but he is conservative in the matter of meals. He wanted them on time, and not them, much to the disgust of his hosts.

Marie, Grand Duchess of Russia, according to the speaker, seemed to be in a daze and not to realize what all the publicity was about. Since the revolution she had embroidered dresses and acted as a director of a dress shop in Paris.

New books, that will be out this spring, said Mrs. Blackington, are by Eugene O'Neill, Hugh Walpole, Galsworthy, Stern and Ann Austin.

In conclusion she offered as a test for books, this definition: "A book becomes literature when it possesses the qualities which give it a place, a significance and a value beyond the time in which it is written."

Members of the Americanization classes with Miss Schaefer, the Americanization supervisor, were the guests of the club. Miss Schaefer spoke briefly of her work. The day's exhibit was of writing done by her pupils in school and of fancy work, some of it very lovely, done in their homes.

BRADSHAW - FRIENDLY GROUPS HOLD JOINT MEETING

The afternoon and evening groups of the Bradshaw-Friendly Union held a most enjoyable joint meeting in the vestry of the Orthodox Congregational church Monday afternoon. Following a short business meeting, the devotional exercises were conducted by Rev. Laurence L. Barber, pastor of the church. Mr. Barber talked for a few minutes on the meaning of Holy Week and Easter. Mrs. Ezekiel Pratt sang most pleasingly two Easter hymns, acting as her own accompanist.

The speaker of the afternoon was Miss Frances McConaughy, who has been for twenty-two years a teacher in Fitchburg University. She returned to this country recently and is now working on the American Board of Missions. Her talk, which was charmingly given, was illustrated by many pictures. In speaking of education in China, she told particularly of the attention that is being paid to the education of the poorer people, who constitute 85% of the population. The farmers are being taught household arts, farming and book-keeping by much the same method as that of the county extension work in this country.

All of the people are eager to learn. Last fall the applicants for entrance to the schools were so numerous that many had to be refused. From one school alone three hundred were turned away. There is, however, a struggle between the older and younger generation as the newer ideas are leading away from filial piety.

The Chinese, said Miss McConaughy, are very serious minded. They hold meetings frequently and pray over their problems. Even the president of China holds prayer meetings to help him conduct his affairs.

Tea was served from a table set with a beautiful silver service and decorated with tulips of a coppery yellow and a pot of yellow jonquils. Assisting Mrs. Charles H. Doty with the tea were Mrs. Robert C. Bird, Mrs. E. E. Brainard, Mrs. Josephine Butler, Miss Grace Parker and Miss Elsie Parker.
